Who are Elite Adventures?

Elite Adventures are a team of experienced professionals dedicated to educating and inspiring young people. We offer a range of services and activities in a safe environment, where essential skills-for-life can be nurtured.

Working alongside parents/carers, schools and other agencies, we can create individual programmes that give young people fantastic opportunities for personal development; building their self-awareness, personal and interpersonal skills and sense of responsibility.

Preparing today's youth for tomorrow's challenges.

The mentoring of our enthusiastic, caring staff, combined with the freedom of the great outdoors, can help to promote self-confidence within young people from all backgrounds. This confidence and increased 'sense of self' will help them to face the challenges of life ahead – allowing them to fulfil their potential and make a positive contribution to the world.

Benefits for the individual

Application of Services

Elite Adventures believe that opportunities should be equal and available to all. That's why we open our 'outdoor classrooms' to any young person who can benefit from our services.

We have an 'open to all' policy, regardless of ethnicity, denomination or physical ability. Our programmes can offer hope and the chance for a new start for disengaged youths, who are Not in Education, Employment or Training (NEET), young offenders and disadvantaged young people and those who have found themselves within the Social Care services.

Offering an inclusive and wide-ranging provision, we can work with parents, pupil referral units, Youth Offending Services and family centres – helping to rebuild familial relationships and bring families back together.

Benefits for the individual.

The Elite Adventures organisation offers a variety of activities and qualifications for 11 – 19 year olds. Offering a stimulating yet secure environment, we are committed to achieving the 'Every Child Matters' 5 outcomes, by maximising opportunities and minimising risks.

We encourage participants to be personally and socially aware, giving them the platform to enjoy and achieve, while gaining essential learning and development skills.

With a wide range of transferable qualifications on offer individuals can access practical experiences such as canoeing, mountain biking, photography, food technology, First Aid training, bush craft and circus skills.

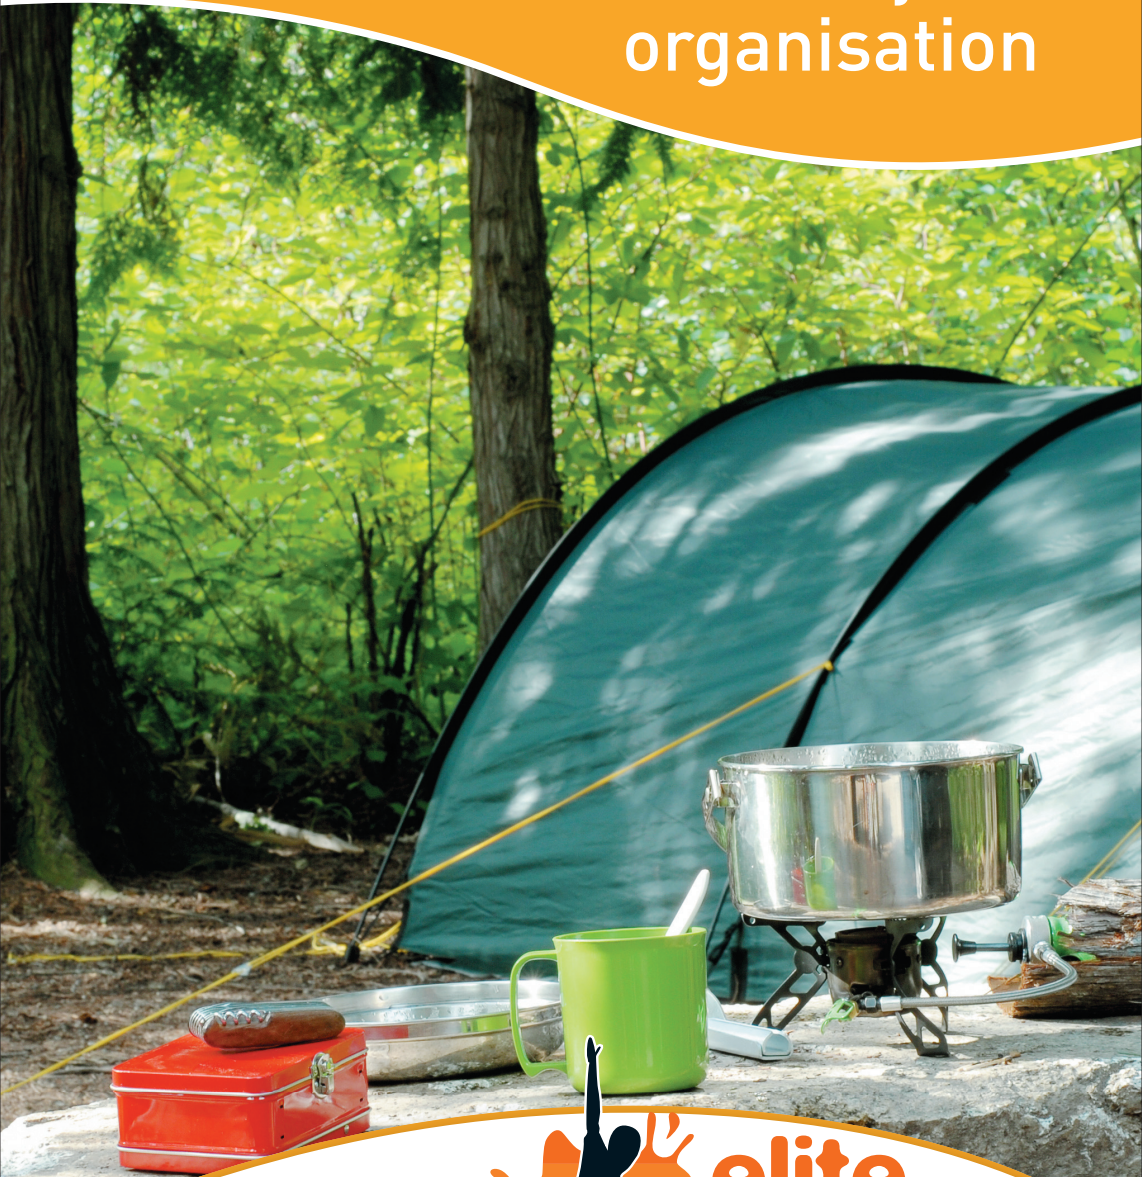

In addition to these 'hands on' activities, we can also assist young people with more emotional and social based skills including team building, emotional literacy, citizenship and community awareness.

We are working with The Prince's Trust and A.S.D.A.N as well as offering Key Skills accreditations, enabling young people to develop their ability to achieve personal economic well-being – easing their path into adulthood and preparing them for the working world.

Benefits for your organisation

Benefits for your organisation.

Elite Adventures can work alongside your organisation to provide your service users with opportunities that you may not have the resources to cater for yourselves.

Our highly trained and caring instructors and tutors will work with you to ensure that each individual will receive the correct support and assistance to complement the services that your organisation offers. This enables you to focus on your specific area of expertise, while we provide further opportunities to reinforce the good work that you do. By maintaining effective levels of communication and professionalism, the young people that you work so hard to support can benefit from a more holistic approach to personal-development and learning.

You may feel that the young people you work with could benefit from our activities or programmes; perhaps you recognise the potential advantages of NLP (Neuro-Linguistic Programming), or Reality Therapy and Choice Theory but are not able to offer these through your own system. We want to help, so please feel free to contact us and we will talk you through the many ways in which we can work together.

How it works

Staff and Partnerships

We are lucky to have a fantastic team of highly motivated individuals, who work together to ensure that our service users get the best experience possible.

In addition to our key staff, we also work in partnership with RED – an innovative organisation who provides individual and group support to young people with anger management issues.

With over 15 years of experience in their field, they deliver dynamic and imaginative sessions to youngsters from all backgrounds with a wide range of needs. Their interactive and engaging methods focus on the individual's social and emotional development, helping them to build a better self-understanding and move forward from negative behavioural patterns.

How it works.

At Elite Adventures we pride ourselves not only on the quality of our service provision, but also on our high level of management. We want to ensure that we offer a comprehensive package, to which communication is the key.

By working closely with both the young people involved and their parents/carers, schools and any other relevant agencies, we can tailor bespoke programmes that deliver essential personal development skills as required.

We provide end of term progress reports, attendance monitoring and feedback, individual learning plans and exclusion cover. By holding regular meetings with all those involved in each individual's case, we can make sure that the correct level of support and care is maintained. By keeping the lines of communication open, we can evolve, adapt and re-evaluate on a continuous basis, ensuring that the needs of each young person are consistently being met.
